

Poem today

October 13, 2009

They put us on a magnificent path
- writing poetry while walking in the rain and reading a book
with the pages getting wet

Ten years in the making wasted and they put us on it in school to follow out many years so that we may be experts with our language