

Embossed Paper Lion:

2008

Knotted twisted ferociously engaged and intertwined a single chord and sound unheard tones resound

-who has a story intertwined with glory, triumph, poverty and war;

-lonely childhood sadden; hearts heavy hearts broken,
fractured

-and torn

-who lost hope and found harmony admits the streets and people

-no- longer alone.

-who still brush away tears fractured, broken dreams and hopes.

Still burning with life a beacon of great strength and fervor echoed and resounded before I saw you as a lion
when no more on the plains existed

Strong and beautiful seemingly not afraid, in comparison, but with the same story, same fears and roar.

