

well i'd like to say

poem may

June 9, 20117

well I'd like to hear you say it's alright well I'd like to hear you say I can't be forgotten well I'd like to hear you say you're sorry for last night well I'd like to hear you say you won't leave for a long time well I'd like to hear you say our problems are over well I'd like to hear you say I will be there in the morning well I'd like to hear you say never stand all of them up like the soldiers well I'd like to hear you say your dreams are not over well I'd like to hear you say you're repeating yourself now well I'd like to hear you say i'm coming over for the weekend well I'd like to hear you say you're there in my dreams and... well I'd like to hear you say: you thought you were forsaken well I'd like to hear you say who cares about our antecedent agreement well I'd like to hear you say it was worth it for a while well I'd like to hear you say you can imagine how to value well I'd like to hear you say don't go away again well I'd like to hear you say we're not just staying together I will lose you if I don't try well I'd like to hear you say I want there to be secrets we share

well I'd like to hear you say there's nothing to do but get in bed for the rest of the day well I'd like to hear you say there's something moving for the better part now well I'd like to hear you say what you mean there's no explanation for them just the stories well I'd like to hear you say that because I meant so much you you had to leave but it was a mistake
