

Intention driven ropes today:

December 7th, 2009

-Reject or be forced to contradict oneself-

The pattern can be deduced, reduced and distinguished

-but to see,

-is a matter of happening

co-fated with the decision you make

-(the uncoiling of the rope)

-the unwinding of a chain from a wench links in place, knots ready to take place as time marches on not going to give you an answer

Did that train derail for no reason what so ever?

maybe you could not have done of yourself that you did

What you favor you watch out for;

as I watch you

predict your motions

I imagine fated for a better place

Not one that their words make out there was no train to take you, walk the hill sides, climb up, descend, suspend in time if you are late

- become enlightened -by them-
