

the dream inspired:

October 30, 2010

didn't it sound great- all that new star? you might as well abate those dreams are wrong might as well have not sung that song at all it's not always the case of the bad start a second chance will not always make it any better

I hold your hand as we move all but I never get you back like a time machine and it doesn't seem to me like a tragedy but I thought I lost it all I will think of you for a while my friend I would have let you go back a hero I never thought about why I had broken over never wrong never think about it's a step you're on too hard

it seems like all you want is a love song yet you don't hear what you need you're never gonna be there as the band starts you are never gonna let the fights stop it's a dream when you and I say the same words oh it's a frenzy I say can't you can't help yourself my sweet friends you need this where you even now you seemingly escaping twitter twitch I don't care what do you think I am made of my friend I'd love to hear you sing a fool's song I would love to hear your -why it's wrong
