Solidify the air
make it crystalline shapes, light and time

Stop all motion, all vibration still the world is silent for the first time define all shapes so clear to vision

Draw symbols in the sand enshrine with tokens manipulate them
by their arrangement generating laws, the rules that govern reverberate an earthquake

Command the air to shatter crack crumble,

separate the objects
the ruins of stone cities, the fragmented statues rearrange those blocks, in a new order we put those pieces where they had to go
